TIMING, RESULTS SERVICE &
DISTANCE MEASUREMENT BY

Samuel TANNER (NZL)

1500m Men

It was a fast one. The boys got after it and the pacers did an amazing job. I just wanted to get the standard of 3:35.

Alison dos SANTOS (BRA)

400m Hurdles Men

I had a good race today. We ran fast. I am happy with this and then want to run fast and be the gold medalist in the World Championship. So a lot of room to be better for the next races.

Johannes FLOORS (GER)

400m Men T62 T62

I felt pretty good pretty fast and just noticed on the outer lanes, the other athletes catching up. Running in front of them on the 20 meter mark and running my own race felt pretty good.

Elaine THOMPSON-HERAH (JAM)100m Women

I'm happy to cross the line healthy and with the win. It got me ready for my championship in Jamaica next month. I'm happy to see where I'm at. The result is good.

Jasmine CAMACHO-QUINN (PUR)100m Hurdles Women

I'll take it for today. A little sloppy, I hit my trail leg a couple of times and that slowed me up, but I'll take it. I went 12.4 in these conditions. Everytime I come to Oregon I think of the weather. I already knew what to expect. It wasn't bothering me mentally.

Faith KIPYEGON (KEN)1500m Women

It was a really good race today. I was not expecting such a quick time today, but I'm really happy about the race, the meet record. It was a surprise. For me, I just wanted to open my season in a nice way. Open my 1500 in a nice way. And focus myself for the world championship.

Martina CAIRONI (ITA)100m Women T63 T63

The race of today was just amazing. I am so happy because I set a new world record, 14.02 and that's just incredible. I am really really satisfied. I was looking for a world record because I was feeling very good. I knew that the track was good. I was using for the first time new shoe: the Nike Max Fly and I knew they were pretty good. All of this combined made me feel pretty comfortable.

Michael NORMAN (USA)400m Men

Besides the win and the time, I think the execution of the race was much more traditional than how I've raced the past few years. It feels good to run the way I've been trained to. If you looked at me racing all last year, you could obviously see I was struggling to find my race rhythm again. I kind of lost a sense of how to run the race. Coach Wass and I have been really working hard at practice and at meets to really run it the right way.

Ryan CROUSER (USA)Shot Put Men

Usually, I can go significantly farther with a full throw than with a static. Right now, my full throw's are kind of lacking in finesse and execution, so we stuck with a static. It was a safer strategy. It's something that I like to keep as a tool in my arsenal as the season goes along.

Keely HODGKINSON (GBR)800m Women

I wasn't expecting some of the girls to come out that quick, so it was quite nice to just sit in and be patient. It was back a bit winding up at 300 and just to make sure I had something left for the final 120.

Norah JERUTO (KAZ)3000m Steeplechase Women

The weather was not good and I tried my best. Now I go back to training and prepare for the World Championships. The competition was tough, but I tried my best.

Shelly-Ann FRASER-PRYCE (JAM)200m Women

I wanted to execute technically. I still have some time to go before I get my national trial so you always want to use every opportunity to practice your race plan.

Jakob INGEBRIGTSEN (NOR)1 Mile Men Bowerman Mile

I'm pretty happy with the race. As you can see it's a little bit windy, but it worked out pretty good. I went out at an okay pace and tried to keep the momentum, then saved something for the last lap. This is pretty similar to our weather back in Norway so I'm familiar with the weather. All-in-all a great race... It feels like home. It's always a lot of fun to come here, with Nike hosting. Next on my list is, of course, the world championships. So, I'm just looking forward to that.

Trayvon BROMELL (USA)

100m Men

I was happy to come out with the win, but it's a lot of technical stuff that I messed up on. I'm pretty sure I'm already getting messages from my coach about what we can fix. I'm just happy I focused a lot on my top-end speed, staying calm and composed, being able to run through the line and get the win. I just wanted to win. That's the main goal, come out here and win the races. Then figure out what we're going to do next.
